LOOD LOSSES IN MILLIONS ARE REPORTED

Dallas, (AP)—Thousands of Texas and Oklahoma farmers, praying for rain six weeks ago, today see the prospect of another bad crop because it's too wet. It isn't true everywhere in the states. The situation changes from day to day as torrential downpours fall first one place and then another. Many farmers, particularly in north Texas wheat belt, are skirting forward to some of the crops ever grown—if they can get into their fields to harvest before the plants fall on the ground, in time to spray before insects and disease eat them. Floods are a different—and distressing—matter. In many cases, crops have been a total loss. The Texas Defense and Disaster Relief and the Extension Service have hard figures for agricultural losses—$27,289,000. They reported 1,567,755 acres of farm and pasture land damaged. This does not include "wet weather" losses other than floods. Oklahoma farm experts set no such hard figures but say floods wiped out a lot of crops. Not all of Texas is suffering from too much rain. In far west Texas, more moisture is needed. In much of the arid and South Plains, rains have been just about right. In central Texas, around Waco, where one of the worst early flooding occurred, harvest is going smoothly. The same is true in portions of the Gulf Coast area. In the Wichita Falls section, where a bumper small grain crop harvest already is under way, farmers are harvesting as rapidly as possible before more high winds, hail and deluges beat the plants into the ground. Around Denton, Dist. Agriculture Agent Ted Martin said some grain crops were so damaged by wind, hail, rust and worms that they aren't worth harvesting. Cotton and grain sorghum planting has been delayed by too much rain in north central Texas and the Edwards Plateau around San Angelo.

15th Anniversary of Japanese Defeat On Midway Is Recalled

By JOSEPH GRANT
Midway Island (AP)—A 10,000-foot runway—long enough for any plane now in existence or even conceived—is being built as part of a 37-million-dollar project on Midway, where 15 years ago today the Japanese navy suffered its first defeat in modern history. Out of the harbor, dredges are scouring out a depth of 36 feet to accommodate 90,000-ton super-tankers. Construction workers are developing the entire 948-acre island as a nerve center of the U. S. defense against sneak attack. Early in June 1942, Japanese Adm. Isoroku Yamamoto, commander of the Imperial Combined Fleet, tried to take Midway. He hoped to use the island, now only six flying hours from Honolulu, to launch bomber attacks on Pearl Harbor.

HOUSE LEADERS ACT TO PUT DEMOCRATS ON SPOT OVER THEIR RETALIATION THREAT

Harrisburg (AP)—The Republican House leadership acted today to put Democratic representatives on the spot should they carry out their plan of withholding approval of a group of special appropriation bills.

Rep. Albert S. Readinger, Democratic floor leader, said the minority members would hold up the special fund bills in a move to use that situation as a club over the Republican-controlled Senate in acting upon the GOP-trimmed general appropriation bill.

The Democrats are seeking to restore the cuts made by the Republican-controlled House in the billion dollar plus general fund bill. The measure passed by the House last week requiring only a majority vote. But the special funds bills allocating money to hospitals, the Pennsylvania State University and other agencies over which the state has no direct control. That requires a two-thirds vote. That requires Democratic help.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, said he would call up for a vote the special appropriation bills and let the Democrats take responsibility for their defeat should they vote against them.

However, Johnson said later he would put the question before the Republican House caucus for decision before calling up the special fund bills for a vote.

In another move in the battle of the budget, Gov. Leader conferred with Republican and Democratic legislative leaders in an effort to rescue the budget from the 94½ million dollar cut.

GOP House speaker W. Stuart Helm said after the meeting that no commitments were asked or given by either side.

"The governor," he said, "stressed the need for funds for mental health, mentally retarded children programs, and industrial development and urban development."

Johnson said that Leader "re-hashed" his budget. "He contended we the GOP are all wrong in our estimates of costs of such programs as industrial development. He made no additional plea for his welfare program. 'There were no agreements and no commitments,'" Johnson added.

Barber Shop Chorus Provides Evening of Music For Patients

Melody reigned supreme, Monday night, in the auditorium at Warren State Hospital when the "Warren Barbershoppers' Chorus" presented a full evening's entertainment for hospital patients. During a brief interval in the program, Dr. John C. Urbaitis, assistant superintendent of the hospital, presented the Chorus with a generous check from Chapter One, Pennsylvania Psychiatric Technicians' Association, to help defray expenses of the forthcoming flight to California for entrance in national competition. Earl Erickson, director of the Barbershoppers, made a perfect master of ceremonies and in his cordial, informal manner, introduced the various numbers and made them the more interesting with an occasional explanation. He said the Chorus always enjoys singing at the hospital because of being sure of not only an appreciative audience but excellent acoustics as well. "We're From Warren, Pennsylvania" opened the excellent program, followed by "Sugar Cane Jubilee" and "Mandy Lee" before a quartet composed of Boyd Sanden, John Swick, Pat Scholes and Ralph Hoffman, replete with Indian head dress, sang "Lonesome" and "Aurora Lee," aided by large placards and a hearty "How!" to greet the patients. "Glory, Glory Hallelujah" was next on the program after which Mr. Erickson explained that a "TJ" is a "tear jerker" while a "GB" is a "gut buster" and demonstrated the latter by having his big chorus sing "A Son of the Sea Am I," followed by "Asleep in the Deep." Known as the A Cappella Quartet. (Turn to Page Eight)

Well Known Local Attorney Retained By Co. Auditors

County auditors have retained Attorney Samuel F. Bonavita to represent them in court on Wednesday, June 12 when the dispute over their county audit is aired.

County commissioners rejected the 1956 audit as presented by Charles Briggs, Merle Jordan and Ralph Summerton, the three auditors.

In their list of 10 exceptions to the report the commissioners stressed that they were not satisfied with the lack of itemization in numerous instances.

The more or less abbreviated county audit was started in 1952 by the auditors who headed their report with this statement:

In Particular:
To The Hon. Allison D. Wade, P. J.

In General:
To Any Person Interested.

In the interest of economy we condense our written, and in particular our published statements; but we assure you that every item of receipts and expenditures handled by the Office of the Commissioners and Treasurer, covering the County, Institutional, Rouse, and minor funds has been minutely checked by us. That the summary Statement of the Prothonotary, Register and Recorder, and Sheriff's Offices have been examined and tested by methods, and to the extent, we deemed appropriate and necessary in the circumstances, and in our opinion, the ensuing audit is true and correct. (Signed: L. E. Russell, secretary).

Other Auditors signing the report in 1952 were J. Elmer Peterson and Charles H. Briggs.

ROADS TO SURVIVAL

New Interstate Highway Net to Aid CD Evacuation

A line on a drawing board today may someday save your life. That line might be one of CIVIL DEFENSE auxiliary police will be needed in great numbers to help control traffic if warning of impending enemy attack ever forces cities to evacuate. Barring of cross traffic, and permitting one-way outbound traffic only on arterials and the great urban freeways now being built will aid these men in their thankless task. (FCDA Photo)

THIS INTEGRATED $33,000,000,000 network—the world's greatest public works project—will include freeways running from the heart of major cities to the outskirts and beyond. Over these roads, the millions who live and work in cities could seek the safety of distance from a nuclear bomb blast if adequate warning of impending attack were given.

In normal times, restless Americans drive 550,000,000,000 miles a year in private autos. Families must also rely on cars to flee from danger in the event of civil defense emergency.

The automobile is a rolling home in an emergency; the Federal Civil Defense Administration points out. You can eat and sleep in it, keep warm and dry, receive vital instructions by radio, drive out of danger areas, and even get some shelter against blast or fallout.

WORLD'S LONGEST BRIDGE, the 24-mile Lake Pontchartrain Causeway north of New Orleans, is a spectacular example of new highway construction which could be used to help simply target cities ahead of attacking planes. Map shows how civil defense forces, frustrated in New Orleans by water obstacles to traffic, on almost every side, could send thousands of cars straight across the huge lake barrier to the north. The bridge was opened to traffic in August 1956.

SUCCESSFUL EVACUATION of a large city would leave the downtown area a ghost town, as in this view of Portland, Ore., taken during Operation Greenlight—the largest civil defense evacuation exercise to date. The vast Interstate Highway System under construction would not only facilitate evacuation of large cities, but also would provide roads needed to supply the huge evacuee camps in outlying areas. (Portland Oregonian Photo by Rollie Debsen)

CIVIL DEFENSE EVACUATION would look like this with carefully controlled traffic moving one-way outwards from a threatened target city at a rate of up to 1,200 autos per hour per lane, except that cars would be carrying more people. All access to major surface streets would be controlled, traffic on cross streets banned. To Be Flag Day Speaker Here
It was announced today by Ken B. Graham, exalted ruler, that the speaker for the annual community Flag Day exercises sponsored each year by Warren Lodge No. 223, B. P. O. Elks, will be Father Daniel A. Hurley, OFM, instructor in philosophy on the staff of St. Bonaventure University.
Also on the program will be the Warren Barber Shop Chorus of fifty voices, and the Duncaree Band under the direction of Harry Summers.
As usual the program will include the impressive Flag Day ritual of the B. P. O. Elks, in which the officers will be assisted by members of the Boy Scout Troop, sponsored by the Lodge.
Elk officials expressed themselves as particularly fortunate in being able to secure Father Hurley for the program. Born in Albany, N. Y., he attended grammar and high school in that city, after which he attended St. Bonaventure College where he received his BA and MA degrees. He attended Holy Name College in Washington, D. C., and was ordained in that city June 17, 1945. Assignments since that time have been at St.

It is now a registered bay station. Above, W. N. "Bill" Wevers, chief radio dispatcher, makes a call. On left is Harvey Martin, who did the electrical work, and Gerald Crosby, fire chief.
Bear Lake Volunteer Fire Co. has recently received its license to become a registered bay station. The company has ten licensed bay station operators of which W. N. Wevers is chief dispatcher. They can also communicate with the Erie County, Penna., fire companies.

America's favorite convertible is one of 21 Ford models for 1957
There's no need to pay a "fancy price" to enjoy fine-car luxury.
Ford is lowest priced* of the low-price three, yet offers values you'd expect only in cars costing far more!
To start with, you can easily pay twice the money, and not find lines that can hold a candle to Ford's for loveliness, loveliness, or just plain good taste.
But step inside. That's when you'll find the real evidence of Ford's quality!
And, on the way in, note that Ford offers door checks that hold doors open in either of two positions—for easy entrance or exit. A little thing. But, in a fine car, why not? Then, inside, notice how comfortable those plush, foam-rubber seats are. They're scientifically contoured over non-sag springs. Your rear-seat passengers are treated extra kindly, too—with spring assists to help them open and close the doors—with the m. leg room in Ford's field!
Fine cars are smooth—and that's another place Ford really shows its stuff!
Ford delivers its famous V-8 power smooth—as a whisper. That's because only Ford takes the pains to electronically balance each engine while running under its own power. Not even the makers of the most costly cars go this far to bring you super-smooth performance!
Ford rides fine-car smooth and quiet, too. You can thank the new "Inner Ford" for that. Ford, for instance, has a swept-back front suspension that actually "rolls with the punch" of every road bump.

Fine cars are built to stay solid. So's Ford!
Ford has the only frame in its field to make use of rugged tubular steel beams. No car at the price offers so many roof-strengthening beams. Expensive cars aren't built of thicker body steel or with sounder engineering skill. Then, of course, in Ford you can have all the power assists and other conveniences found in fine cars. And they cost far less in Ford.* Yes sir! In every feature, every part, Ford is the fine car at half the fine-car price. Come in and see!

ANOTHER ENGINEERING PROBLEM

With some definite word expected this week from Washington on whether the $1,000,000 appropriation for continuation of preliminary Kinzua Dam survey work will be granted or not, it could be enlightening to remind of another pickle currently under dispute in the U. S. Army Engineering realm.

Buffalo has two ports, a north harbor and a south harbor, the latter being the one familiar to motorists driving into Buffalo from the south. With the St. Lawrence Seaway set to open in 1959, ports all along the Great Lakes are fighting for federal funds with which to improve harbor facilities. Buffalo lags because of army engineers.

Originally, the army engineer in charge of that district went along with most knowledgeable opinion around Buffalo that the new depth of 27 feet (about 13 now) should first be dredged from the south harbor which is clogged with silt. All went well until that army engineer was transferred.

His successor is of the opinion that the bed rock north harbor should be cleared first to a depth of 27 feet, which means a monstrous capital outlay from the start.

At present the army engineer continues to bicker with Buffalo's smart private engineer opinion and in the meantime that city continues to lose ground in the split of federal harbor funds.

ARROWS TO ATOMS

Half a century has passed since Oklahoma put the 46th star in Old Glory. In the swift panorama of fifty fleeting years, the Sooner State—land of Mistletoe, the Redbud tree and the Scissor-tailed Flycatcher—has moved from arrows to atoms.

Oklahoma—the land made famous by Indians, cattle, oil, Will Rogers (and that other Rodgers and his partner Hammerstein)—is kicking up its heels this summer.

It was on April 22nd, 1907, that Federal troops fired the shot at Guthrie, Oklahoma, that opened a last frontier to settlement. We've all seen the famous painting of "The Run" as men, women and children swarmed across the line by Horseback, covered wagon and even velocipedes in a pell-mell rush for land. Only six months later, on November 16, Oklahoma Territory entered the Union as a state!

All this, Oklahoma is reliving this summer with Semi-Centennial celebrations in 70 communities and a giant Exposition in Oklahoma City. Reports are that the Exposition, June 14-July 7, will be the nation's show of the year.

"Arrows to Atoms" is the keynote and symbol of the Exposition. The arrows will be provided by 3,000 Indians encamped on the Exposition grounds. Atoms are the heart of an industrial and scientific show which will bring many of the finest minds of the world to Oklahoma City.

And by way of emphasizing still further that everything's up-to-date in Oklahoma, two of the nation's greatest business rivals, General Motors and Ford are joining hands in lavish style to present the outstanding automobile show of 1957.

"Boomtown", a roaring replica of an early mushroom-type oil-drilling community, will turn back the pages of history for young and old. As a matter of fact, Boomtown will actually drill for oil! (Want to bet they bring in a gusher?) Youngsters can go to town too—their own special "Teen Town."

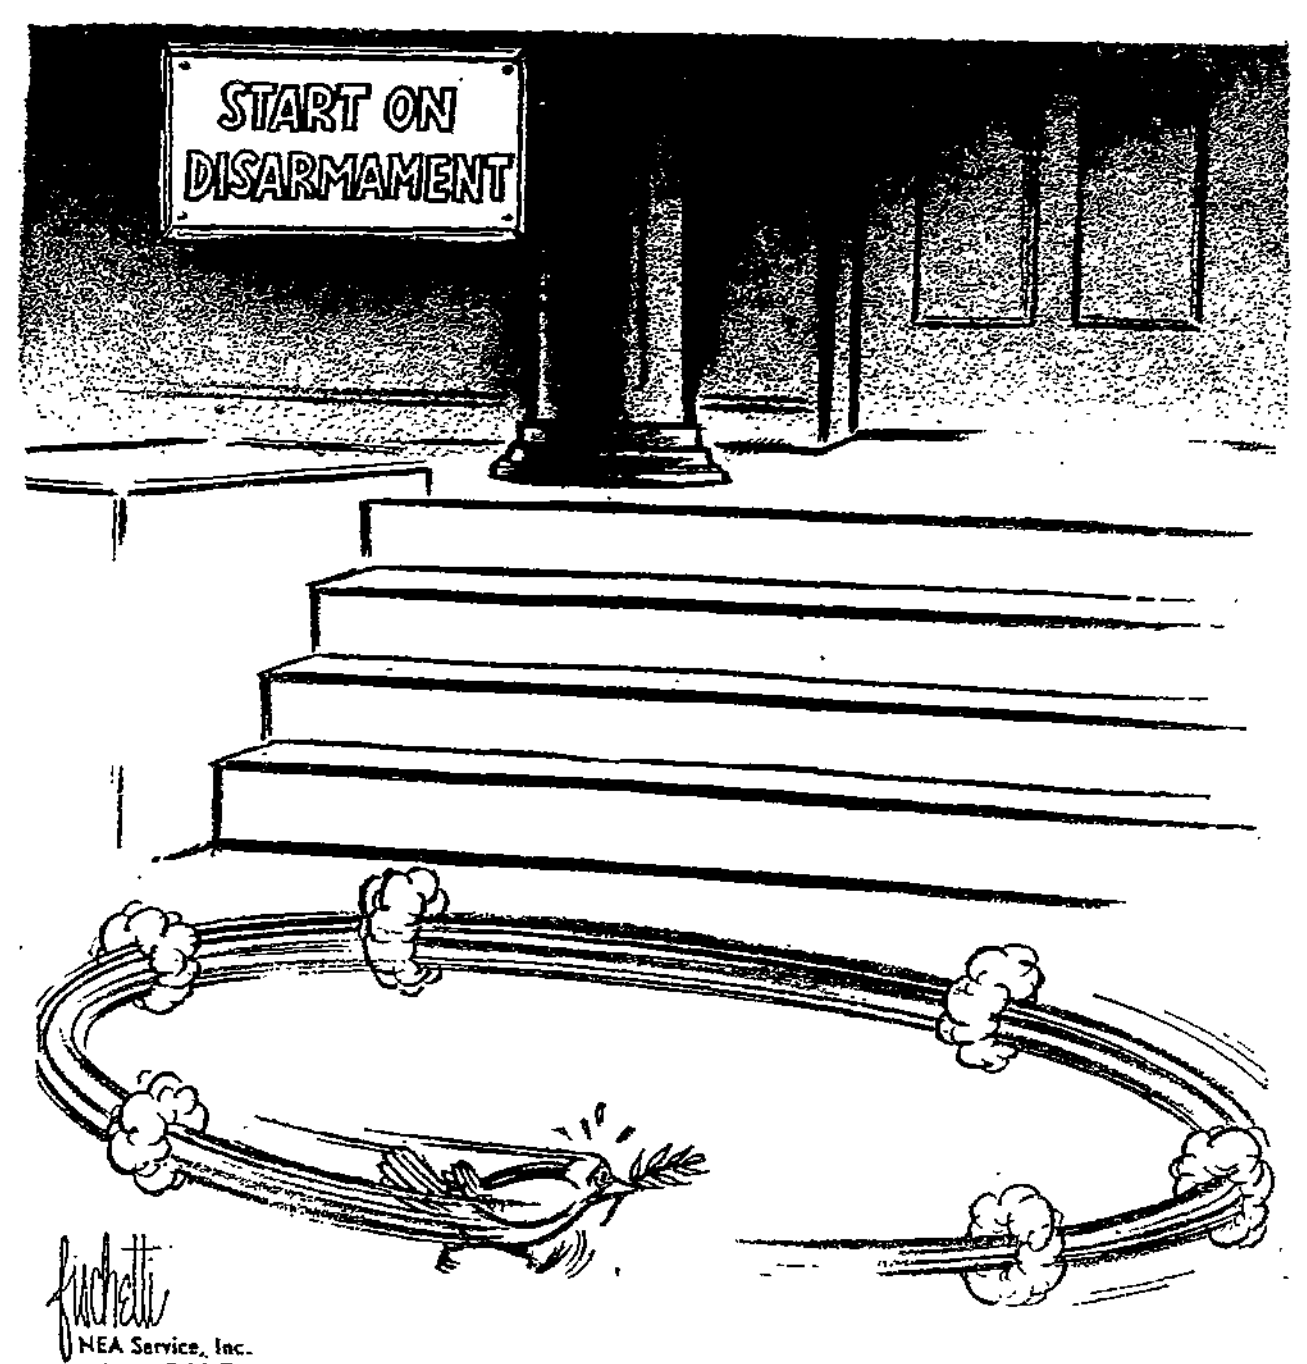

To their fellow Americans everywhere, Oklahomans are saying: "Stake a claim in Americana, in fun and excitement and recreation. Pack up yore outfit, podner, and head for Oklahoma—if only for a vacation."

Here and There

A Times-Mirror classified advertisement paid off to the benefit of a little girl who lost a dark blue jacket last week. Saturday morning a grade school youngster who lives in the 100 block in Pennsylvania avenue east sauntered into the editorial rooms to inquire about an "ad" that had appeared the day before, in the belief that the jacket that was advertised as found "near the Bus Terminal" might be hers—and sure enough it was. She identified it through a name of a neighbor lad, in scrawly handwriting, along with the telephone number. Asked how she discovered the ad in the paper she said she reads the classified ads every day because she is interested in what is lost and found. To go into further detail as to the moral in the story would be a waste of space and words.

Warren merchants, along with others in Pennsylvania, have been reminded by Secretary of Revenue Gerald A. Gleason that all bathing suits are subject to the three per cent sales tax. "A recent survey by field investigators reveals that only a fractional percentage of stores retelling bathing suits are collecting the sales tax," Secretary Gleason said. "Bathing suits are classified as athletic equipment and are taxable." With the bathing suit season at hand, merchants are advised to be sure they collect the sales tax and submit it with their next quarterly returns. If any further information is required on the taxability of items

Washington Letter

BY PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The United States has "underdeveloped areas," too. For instance: In Lewis County, W.Va., state unemployment records showed 900 people out of work. Then they made a survey. It showed 12,000 adults with incomes of less than $500 a year. Because they lived on small farms they had been counted as employed. But they all wanted jobs to earn a decent living.

And in Choctaw County, Okla., it was found that a third of the county's income came from federal and state welfare money.

Out of hundreds of situations like these has come an increasing awareness of the federal government's Rural Development Program. Its aim is to raise the standard of living in America's more backward communities.

IN CHOCTAW County, for example, local businessmen furnished the materials, and labor pitched in to build a factory which was leased, rent-free, to a glove manufacturer.

In Monroe County, Ohio, a "Rural Planning and Improvement Committee" was formed in 1954 when it was discovered there were 4,000 people available for work. A 90-million-dollar aluminum plant was brought in to employ 2,000 of them.

In Watauga County, N.C., 568 women showed up for jobs when a new clothing factory opened to employ 100.

And so it goes in 24 states as 49 pilot counties and eight trade areas of several counties each show what can be done.

THE RURAL Development Program was launched by President Eisenhower in 1955, but in two years it has barely begun the job. In the 49 pilot counties there are 1,100 farms. Eighty-one per cent have sales of less than $2,500 a year. This is below the standard subsistence level.

There are 4.8 million farms in the U.S. today. This drop of 1.2 million since the end of World War II was caused by increased commercial farm productivity. Even so, there are still 1.5 million farms with total sales of under $2,500 a year or a net income under $1,000. This does not include a million "residence" and non-commercial farms.

In getting the Rural Development Program going the committee set up by the administration has offered federal assistance to state and local committees in building up their backward counties.

The program has had a two-million-dollar budget this year. Of this, $640,000 has been for payment to the states to employ extension workers, $447,000 for soil conservation, $400,000 for research and surveys.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower asked for a doubled budget for next year.

This suggestion was turned down by the House Agriculture Appropriations Subcommittee under Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D-Miss.), a strong believer in rigid, high-price support levels.

Whitten and his committee recommended that "all funds now being used for the Rural Development and other special programs at the state level be diverted to help provide salary increases for county and home demonstration agents."

Rather than helping the poorer farmers to find new sources of off-farm income, the Whitten committee recommended that "it would be better to raise the prices small farmers receive, and let them farm."

Rural Development funds may be restored by the Senate. But as things stand now, the program faces liquidation.

in the sports goods category, business firms may obtain it by consulting their nearest regional Sales Tax Office or writing directly to the Bureau of Sales and Use Tax, Harrisburg. That's the long and the short of it!

Area residents will be interested to learn that plans have already been formulated for the commemorative enactment of the Maid of the Mist legend, an annual community project at Niagara Falls, N. Y. The festival is held each fall during "Indian Summer" and is based on the oft-told story of the beautiful Indian maiden who sacrificed her life by going over the falls in a canoe to save her tribe from disaster. Miss Donna Waters, soon to be adopted into the Tuscarora nation, was selected at last year's festival as the 1957 Maid of the Mist. Her successor will be chosen from finalists and proclaimed the 1958 Maid of the Mist by Tuscarora Indian Chiefs at the conclusion of this year's celebration. Many of the activities of the festival week will take place at a model Indian village erected on Goat Island, which separates the American and Horseshoe Falls. The village will include a stockade fort modeled after the one erected in Niagara Falls during colonial times, 30 wigwams, and two longhouses typical of the type used here centuries ago by the Oniagara Indians. Among the activities scheduled for the Indian village are tribal war dances, the Indian maiden's fertility dance, a Seneca wedding ceremony, lacrosse games and a reenactment of the signing of the Tuscarora "1,000 Years of Peace" Treaty.

A summer reminder from the State Revenue Department at Harrisburg: Sales tax first, then to the beach. The Department said last week it had found that only a few stores were collecting the 3 per cent tax on bathing suits. They are "athletic equipment" and subject to the tax, it reminded merchants.

Deaf Man Perfects Cordless Hearing Aid

Worn Entirely on One Ear

PEORIA, ILL. (Special) — H. A. Lyons, who himself has been hard of hearing for over 25 years, today announced the perfection of a miniature electronic hearing aid that is so small it is all worn on one ear.

It weighs but a fraction of an ounce and can be slipped on and off easier than a pair of eye glasses. Wearer gets all-directional pick-up and normal use of telephone. There is no clothing interference because it is worn at the ear, which is the natural way to hear.

Since the aid is tiny and is worn tucked behind the ear, it is practically invisible. Mr. Lyons stated that, although it is powerful enough to fit the most severe hearing loss, it can also be adjusted for the millions of slightly hard-of-hearing who feel they are not deaf enough to bother with the more cumbersome aids.

It is suggested, if interested for yourself, or a friend, to write to Tonemaster Manufacturing Company, 128 South Monroe Street, Dept. B-1 (Peoria, Illinois, and he will be glad to send information at no cost or obligation to you.—Adv.

Plan Shower Around Mom, Not Baby

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

PLANNING a baby shower
for a summertime arrival? When you're discussing gifts with the gals, consider the prospective mom, especially if she has other youngsters.

Caring for a new baby
plus vacation-happy children can impose an extra burden on her energy and she would probably be very grateful for thoughtful presents designed to spare her work and time.

This is the opinion of many mothers I know. We're planning a shower for a mother expecting her third. And we're taking our cue for presents from the crowded days following her return from the hospital.

To reduce the daily dish-washing load, disposable dishes are part of the plan. Included in the box are plates, bowls, napkins and cups, both small and tall.

To ease the increased laundry, there's a package of the really soft diaper liners.

Friendly neighbors can be counted on to bring a pie or cake when they come for a peek at the newborn. But many dishes are harder to come by. So we're giving her promissory notes for casseroles, main-dish salads and the like. And the food will be handed over in non-returnable aluminum foil containers.

BUT the party table needn't be so practical. A pretty centerpiece devised by a friend of mine is easy to do. A shoe-box baby carrage, floating streamers and packed with garden flowers can highlight the dessert-and-coffee table.

To make it, use the bottom of Pale green crepe-paper baby buggy filled with summer flowers presides over shower party table. Gifts are practical ones.

one shoe box for the body of the buggy. Slip the bottom of another shoe box over one end to form the hood. Adjust hood to the height you want and cut off the lower end.

Paste or staple these two parts together. Cover with pink, blue, yellow or turquoise crepe paper.
Ruffle a strip of crepe paper and paste around the edges.

Wheels are made from six-inch paper plates with a crepe-paper ruffle in the center. Anchor them to the buggy with thumbtacks.

Paper-wrapped pipe cleaners form the handle.

Fill the buggy with garden flowers stuck in lightweight plastic foam of the type used by florists. Result is fresh and gay.

The Mature Parent

Mrs. Ainslie's Reproach:
Overprotecting Her Son

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

SINCE Mr. Ainslie has become his firm's assistant sales manager his suburban home has seen less of him.

He has to take customers to dinner. He has to show them the town. When he travels, customers take him to dinner and show him the town. Later, his wife has begun to enviously compare his roaming freedom to her confinement by maternal duties. And to develop a good deal of resentment at it.

Her feeling has especially affected her nine-year-old son.
She fusses over him. Every afternoon she bundles the two younger children into the car and picks Ted up at school. She gets upset when he's baffled over homework. Last night when his father suggested it was time to re-register him for summer camp, she became extremely agitated.

SHE said hotly, "I don't want him to go to camp this year! He's had two colds this spring. I'm simply not going to have him sent into those woods to rough it again this year."

After a moment, her husband muttered, "Women—holy cats!"
and drove downtown for some cigarettes.

It made his wife angrier than ever. Yet his failure to understand her was no more unkind than her failure to understand herself.

If we let it, resentment can play its malevolent tricks on us, regardless of our sex.

Were Mr. Ainslie resentful of his wife, he might reproach her by flogging himself into intense business activity or a violent flirtation with a neighbor's wife.

THESE male forms of reproach are not available to Mrs. Ainslie.
So she's turned to the one that is—her fussing over Ted that tells his father what a grand, conscientious mother she is.

Where Mr. Ainslie's flirtation would cry reproachfully, "See what a desirable male I am!" her maternal fussings cry, "See what a good parent I am compared to what a neglectful one you are!
See how I devote myself to your son's welfare while you devote yourself to your disgusting customers by showing them the town and goodness knows what else!"

Naturally, as Ted has become such a useful instrument for indirect reproach, she doesn't want to lose him to camp this summer.
Overprotecting a child is what we mothers often turn to when we dare not reproach his father openly.

Ruth Millett

Housewife Should Vacation
Each Year All by Herself

ONCE a year, Marge, who is a hard-working homemaker 50 out of every 52 weeks, kisses her family goodbye and takes off for "Mom's annual two-week vacation."

An older woman who lives near by pinch-bits for her in the daytime and her husband takes over at night and on weekends.
Marge has been taking her homemaker's holiday every year for five years and she highly recommends it to other housewives.

"It's not only good for me. It's good for the family," she says.
"I get a complete rest and come home eager to get on with the job of homemaking, ready to face and maybe even solve problems that were getting me down."

"The children have drawn closer to their father while I wasn't around. He has had a chance to do things his way for a while.
And he has also had a chance to find out that my job is no snap."

ALL BY HERSELF

SOME women can't possibly manage a homemaker's holiday once a year. But many who could, don't—probably because they secretly feel they aren't entitled to it.

But why should they feel that way? The job of full-time homemaker is not only one of hard work but heavy responsibility. Why doesn't the homemaker need and deserve a vacation just like any other worker?

Even if she gets a vacation with the family, she is still on the job. What she needs is a vacation away from her family.

Any homemaker who finds herself frequently wishing, "If I could just get away by myself for a few days" ought to start looking around to see if she can't figure out some way to get a yearly holiday.

Special Technique Is Needed

These girls, who work as waitresses in an exclusive New York club while they further their careers, must wear make-up especially adapted to the softness of gaslight. Their make-up tricks are just as good for any woman dining out in a softly lighted restaurant or having dinner at home by candlelight. We show here (left) Marlene Manners, who's now studying voice and drama, Ann Atmar (center), drama student and Jean Valenti, a psychology major at Columbia University. All three girls use a peach-tone powder base, heavy eye make-up, and rose-mauve lipstick to create prettiness that will not fade away in soft light.

COUNTLESS times you've tried on that soft, filmy gown that turns you into a princess. For days you've practiced just the right make-up to set it off to perfection. You're happy. Your escort is handsome, and you know you will look your best for that very special date.

But what you may not have taken into consideration is that the lighting in most restaurants is soft and dim. And the make-up that looked so lovely at home will be washed out. Color will be drained. Lips that were red and inviting will fade into the face. And rouge, so carefully applied, will give the appearance of hollow cheeks.

Believing that there must be a solution to this problem, one famous beauty expert conducted make-up experiments in New York's Gaslight Club. It was an ideal spot to choose for these experiments, for the exclusive Gaslight Club, on New York's East Side, has lush red satin walls and lighting as soft and dim as you'll find anywhere.

The models used for these experiments were girls who work as waitresses at the club. They wear the ball gowns of the 1920's, and must look their loveliest during working hours. This is a difficult task indeed, since they work in a room lighted by gas globes brought from the old United States Hotel at Saratoga Springs.

A solution was found and by following the suggestions of this famous beauty house, we can all learn to use the kind of cosmetics that will give us a soft, glowing look even in the faintest light.

The ideal make-up for this type of illumination is light, with no rouge (to create hollow cheeks), drama around the eyes, and a special trick with lip make-up.

Most of the job can be done at home, but the lip trick is applied in the powder room at the club. At home, apply a rachel or peach-tone base. The eyes can be lavishly made up, using either a black or brown liner and brow pencil, black mascara and opalescent pink eye shadow. The cosmetic house that carried out the make-up experiments offers a rose mauve lipstick that is a perfect shade for soft lighting.

Before leaving home, tuck into your purse a platinum eye shadow stick. In the club's powder room, carefully outline your lips with eyebrow pencil, then lightly heighten the drama with a layer of platinum eye shadow over your lipstick. This may sound startling, but when you return to the dim lights, you will find that your lips are molded into a soft, supple and alluring line. You might practice this kind of make-up at home, in dim lighting, just to see the glamorous effect for yourself before you try it out on the man in your life.

You'll find that no matter how soft the lighting, you'll have all the allure you'll need to keep your escort entranced.

"Tribute Fund" Established at The Annual BSA Board Meet

Executive Board of Chief Cornplanter Council, Boy Scouts of America, at its June meeting on Monday night decided to establish a "Tribute Fund". The purpose of the fund will be to receive gifts for Scouting work given in tribute to the accomplishment of living persons, or in memory of persons who have died.

The board decided to transfer the present balance in the Dorothy Gary Memorial fund to the Tribute fund, and voted that any costs of establishing the Tribute Fund be made from that source.

The board voted to change its monthly meeting date to the third Monday of the month, beginning in September.

The personnel committee, consisting of Clifford R. Betts, Hugh Logan, and Joseph Wick recommended a written standard of personnel practices, based on National Council recommendations, which was approved.

A budget for 1958, totaling $22,100 was adopted. Budget in 1957 was $19,700.

Present at the Board meeting were Clifford R. Betts, president, Carl Rogers, Hugh Logan, Harold Banghart, Joseph Wick, John Hickey, Richard McClement, Byron Knapp, Elton Barton, Hadsall Wright, F. M. Caughey, Duane Wilder, and Elmer Morgan, scout executive.

Amendment

Teamsters Union within a few months.

One of the matters the committee has explored is Beck's securing a beer distribution franchise for the State of Washington and Alaska for a company in which his son took an interest.

Correspondence it subpoenaed from the brewing company disclosed that one company official told another in a memo that young Beck was a "spoiled boy."

The committee searched for the younger Beck for several months before he was finally served with a subpoena in Seattle. Part of the time during the search he was in Canada.

After taking the oath to tell the truth this morning, Beck gave his name and Seattle address. Then he asked his occupation.

"I refused to answer on ground it may tend to incriminate me," he said.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) asked whether Beck really thought he could be incriminated by telling about his occupation.

"It might tend to do so," the witness replied.

From then on, Beck's answers were all the same, refusals on the basis of the Fifth Amendment.

House Leaders

The governor, on the eve of the conference, said the "very least" the Senate could do was to join him on a visit to the Philadelphia State Hospital at Bayberry and the Pennsylvania State Hospital in Chester County. Both are mental institutions.

Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, Republican floor leader, took leadership on the idea and told a newsman:

"I would be in favor of sending a committee of senators along with the governor on such a tour. I doubt if the entire Senate would do it."

Leader said they should make the mental hospital tour before voting on the 1,407,000 general appropriations bill which incorporates a 27-million dollar cut in the Welfare Department budget. Most of it is in the field of mental health.

In the House, the Democratic leadership held up action on a series of so-called special appropriation bills as a lever to preclude a rush vote in the Senate on the which most of the budget cuts were incorporated.

These special spending measures require a two-thirds vote because the commonwealth does not have a direct voice in how the money is spent. They include more than 27 millions to the Pennsylvania State University and 24 million dollar in varying amounts for state-aided hospitals.

leader to guard a machinegun and other equipment—thus making the point that Girard was on duty.

The accusation under which the 21-year-old American now faces Japanese trial carries a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison.

Girard has been quoted by Army authorities as saying he "may" have fired the shot. But he denies he intended to kill. He says he only intended to frighten the scavengers away.

PRESQUE ISLE BILL

Harrisburg, (P)—Senate amendments were made in a bill last night to allow, rather than direct, that a 25-cent admission fee be charged for all vehicles entering Presque Isle State Park near Erie. The measure was amended on the Senate floor but put in position for final Senate passage.

Barber Shop Chorus

ter, Dave Greenlund, Bob Dietsch, Pete Sanden and Carl Johnson sang "Wonderful Days Gone By," "Sugar Cane Jubilee," and responded to encore with "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi."

Then came the following choral selections: "You'll Never Know the Good Fellow I've Been," "I'll Tell the World It's You," and the "everybody loves a home, sweet home" song, "My Indiana." "Darling, the Sunshine Grows Brighter" also pleased the audience immensely.

The ever-popular Chord Cadets were next on the program with "Won't You Come Home, Bill Bailey?" "Little Brown Jug," "Big Bass Viol," and vastly amused the patients with the guitar notes embodied in "The Mosquito Song." In the quartet were Jim Cruickshank, Boyd Sanden, Bob Dietsch and Mr. Ericson.

The three final numbers by the chorus were "Gee, Boys, It's Great to Lead a Band," "McNamara's Band," and the closing theme song, "Keep America Singing."

Hospital audiences always feel a direct tie with the Warren Barbershoppers because of the active participation of Dr. Urbaitis as a baritone.

Record Number Of Tie Votes Shown In Official Count

A record for tie votes was recorded in Warren County in the primary election May 23rd.

County commissioners reported today that they have mailed out cards to 74 potential office holders, notifying them to be at the Court House at noon Monday to break the ties by drawing of lot.

Most of the ties, some 20 in number, had only one or two write-in votes on the Democratic ticket but down in Brokenstraw Township 23 votes apiece were received by Ellis Martin and Ed Archibald in a supervisor contest. Up in Sugar Grove there was an 8-way tie for school director.

County commissioners also announced today that C. Henry Nicholson, with 42 write-in votes, led the ticket for Democratic nomination for district attorney. Previously it had been thought that Sam Bonavita, Republican nominee for DA, had also won the Democratic nomination but a review of the law reveals that votes for "C. Henry," though misspelled, are allowable. Attorney Nicholson said today he had given no thought to whether he would wage a campaign or not.

SPORTSMAN'S DIGEST

SETTING THE HOOK WHEN USING PORK RIND "HEEL".

UNLIKE OTHER ARTIFICIAL LURES, FISH DO NOT EXPEL THE IMITATION BLACK EEL. SO, DON'T SET THE HOOK INSTANTLY WHEN A FISH TAKES AN "HEEL". UNLESS YOU HAVE TIED IN A TAIL HOOK. OTHERWISE, QUICK STRIKES MAY MISS HOOKING. THIS IS ONE ARTIFICIAL THAT FEELS LIKE NATURAL BAIT TO A FISH. SO, WITHOUT A TAIL HOOK, LET FISH "MOUTH" EEL AND RUN WITH IT. THEN STRIKE.

THEY'RE BOTH GREEN

Speaking Of Sports ---

Faced with the prospect that the current session of the Legislature may fail to enact fishing license increase legislation, the Pennsylvania Fish Commission took initial steps today to determine what curtailments will be necessary during the next two years to stay within the income that will be available from the present $2.50 license fee. The action was announced by R. Stanley Smith, of Waynesburg, president of the Commission, at the close of the Commission's meeting at Bellefonte. On direction of the Commission, the Executive Director and the staff will immediately undertake to determine operational repair and replacement costs within the various activities and report at the July meeting of the Commission the savings that would specifically be realized by: 1. Curtailment of fish propagation and stocking by closing down hatcheries, with a commensurate decrease of hatchery personnel. 2. Returning to the three mile minimum formerly set for streams to be stocked with state reared fish with a commensurate reduction in the numbers of fish required, and to limit stocking to streams and lakes most suitable for the various species. 3. Closing the Fisherman's Paradise on Spring Creek near Bellefonte. 4. Shortening seasons and reducing creel limits, including the elimination of ice fishing for bass and walleye in order to conserve the available supply of more desirable game fishes until such time as the Commission may be sufficiently financed to warrant the resumption of its program to provide greater fishing opportunity in other than the propagation and distribution activities. 6. Reducing the purchase of access areas and sections of streams.

Jamestown High School's Red Raiders, scoring a total of 323 points, won the Chautauqua County golf championship Monday afternoon over the Chautauqua Golf Club course, leading five other teams home. Lefty Tasso of Jamestown won medalist honors in a three-over-par 77. Dave La... 78 and Stan Lundne... Jamestown. Concurrently at the county title match, Bemus Point and Silver Creek were battling for the Section VI championship, the Dragons emerging with the crown.

Friend: You've got a lot of car there, all right.

Friend: How much extra did that cost?
Owner: Not one cent. Standard equipment—just like the safety-padded dash, the foam rubber seats, and the dual exhausts. And, of course, the Rocket Engine*. I'm telling you, this Olds has everything. Want to try it?

Promising Young Ballplayer Has Offer From Detroit Team

Now that graduation time has arrived and Warren's sensational young ball player Ed "Winky" Rickerson is about to receive his diploma from high school, opening the way for big league negotiations to get down to contract talks, interest is being revived in the future career of the high school senior. Cy Williams, of Buffalo, scout for Detroit Tigers, was in Warren last Saturday and again Monday, conferring with Rickerson. Yesterday Williams, a former big leaguer, took Rickerson out to War Memorial Field, along with some of his buddies, and gave him a few more lessons that should help his batting average in games to come. It is also understood that Rickerson has a bonus offer of $4,000 to put his name on a Tiger contract. However, he has made no decision, since it is expected that there will be other offers, both from major league clubs and colleges. Hundreds of fans in the Warren area will watch with interest the future of this promising young ball player.

Brooklyn Manager Hopeful Team Will Snap Out of Slump

Brooklyn (AP)—Brooklyn Dodgers' manager, Los Angeles Dodgers' manager, Alvin Karpis, said today that his team can't be bothered right now.

The name that would sound the sweetest to him today as he prepared to send his team against the Chicago Cubs is winning Dodgers. The National League champions have been in a slump the past week, having done nothing better than a four-game split with the Pittsburgh Pirates and a sad one-four against the Philadelphia Phillies.

Only Johnny Podres' three-hitter last night salvaged a game in the Phillies series. The score was 4-0.

"One of the worst features of a slump," said Alston, "is that it gives these other clubs ideas. The Pirates play good ball against us now because they are convinced they can beat us."

Alston said he wasn't panicking over the poor performances of the club, because the breaks in a large extent, have been going the other way.

Bucs Cop Another Equalling Longest Win Streak of Year

Pittsburgh (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates have equaled their longest winning streak of the season, copping their third in a row last night by edging the New York Giants 6-5.

The victory gave the Pirates a 3-2 edge in the series and a mark of 5 wins in their last 9 games. It also lifted them to a 7th place tie with the Chicago Cubs.

The Giants used five pitchers and the Pirates four. Both starters were sent to the showers early, the Pirates blasting Ruben Gomez from the box with a three-run attack in the second inning. Joe Margoneri came on just long enough to be tagged with the defeat as he was hammered for two runs in the third.

The Giants belted Vernon Law from the mound by scoring three runs in the third. Nelson King, who came on to stem the rally by striking out Willie Mays and Dusty Rhodes, was credited with the victory. He had to have help from Luis Arroyo and Roy Face.

Toby Lyons Shoots Hole-In-One on Buffalo Course

Toby Lyons, pro at Moon Brook Country Club, Jamestown, formerly of the Conewago Valley Country Club, qualified for one of the 142 available berths in the United States Open Golf Championship over the Buffalo Country Club course Monday and, while doing so, scored a hole-in-one during the afternoon round.

With an 84-man field battling for five berths open here, Lyons and Ken Yount of Niagara Falls, won a four-way playoff from Alex Leiper of Williamsport and Gene Coghill of Rochester. Yount taking the fourth berth and Lyons the fifth. The wiry little Jamestown pro shot a 74-71-145, identical with Yount's performance.

Gerry Kesselring of Toronto, Ont., led the field with a classic 64-70-134. Augie Nordone of Jamestown 68-71-139 and Bob Hill of Rochester 71-73-144 for the first three spots.

Move Launched To Revive Boxing In Small Communities

Harrisburg (AP)—A move to help revive boxing and wrestling in Pennsylvania's smaller cities was under way in the Senate today.

A bill submitted by two senators would authorize third class city councils to regulate the control both amateur and professional contests, in effect lessening the power of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission in these cities.

"This bill does not mean that I am against the work of the present boxing commission on a statewide level," said Sen. Joseph J. Yoko (D-Northampton). "It merely means that I think possibly something more could be accomplished by bringing boxing back to Pennsylvania."

The measure, co-sponsored by Sen. John T. Van Sant (R-Lehigh) gained committee approval and went to the floor less than an hour after it was introduced.

Yoko conceded that passage of the measure could produce a conflict with the athletic commission. He added that "what the commission would have to say about it would remain to be seen."

Stefan Red Gains Split Decision In Bout With Ippolito

New York (AP)—Stefan Redi will take an all-winning boxing record into the Army with him next Sunday, thanks to a big upset from second Johnny Sullo.

Little Johnny, an expert "cut" man, did a marvelous job in staunching the flow of blood from a deep, wide cut over Redi's right eye when it seemed almost certain that Referee Al Berl would have to stop Stefan's television bout with Frankie Ippolito.

Sullo worked wonders in the corner and Redi, a Hungarian-born German now living in Passaic, N. J., rallied to gain a split decision in 10 rounds over Ippolito, 22, a New Yorker, at St. Nicholas Arena.

The gash was inflicted early in the third round and blood spurted from the cut through the fifth round. By the sixth Sullo had stemmed the flow. Dr. Alexander Schiff examined the cut four times but permitted the strong, well-conditioned Redi to continue.

President of IBC Lashes Out Against Government Ruling

New York (AP)—While a federal judge considered possible penalties against the International Boxing Club, IBC President James Norris lashed at the government in his own defense.

Judge Sylvester J. Ryan, who found the IBC guilty of monopoly charges, said he would hand down a final decree June 24. Two weeks of hearings were concluded yesterday.

Ryan hinted during the hearings that he was thinking along two lines:

1. Dissolve both the IBC of New York and the IBC of Illinois and restrict the activities of Norris and his partner, Arthur Wirtz in boxing promotions.
2. Make Norris and Wirtz decide between operating Madison Square Garden or the Chicago Stadium. They have controlling interests in both arenas.

Meanwhile, in Miami, Norris said he was "sick and tired" of the government measures taken against the IBC.

"I might get out of the fight game altogether if it weren't for the challenge of the thing," he said. "I don't like being asked out... forced out."

"My practices have not been questioned in other businesses. I don't like having them questioned in this one."

Maintaining that a big organization was needed to present big-time boxing, he admitted that he did not intend, originally, to become such a power in the sport.

Young Homemakers Sending Delegation To State Meeting

Warren High School Chapter, Future Homemakers of America, will send a delegation of three members to the 12th annual convention of Pennsylvania F.H.A. at Pennsylvania State University June 10, 11 and 12.

Norma Spensler will be attending in the capacity of state treasurer; Sue Spattfor and Gail Wyman are vice president and president, respectively, of the local chapter for next year. Miss Wyman will be the voting delegate and will also model a dress in the Style Show. The group will be accompanied by Mrs. Robert Whitehill, chapter advisor.

"The Future Is In Your Hands" is the theme of this year's state conference expected to attract some 1,200 members and advisors from approximately 400 chapters.

Dr. Emory Brown, associate professor of rural sociology at the University, will coordinate the 40 discussion groups, assisted by Dr. Francis Whaler and Dr. William Smith, Jr., faculty members.

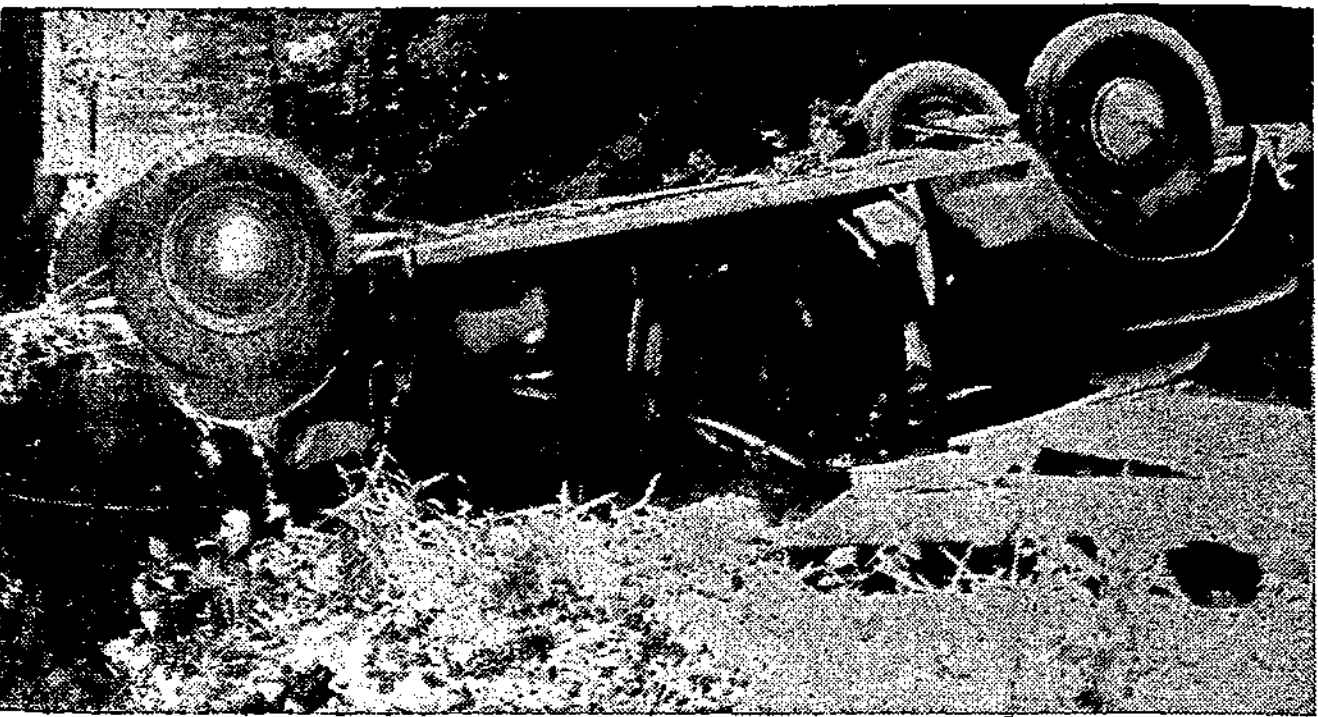

The girls will be welcomed by a representative of the College of Home Economics and Mrs. Clio S. Reinwald, coordinator of homemaking education, Department of Public Instruction, at the first general session Monday night, June 10. The session will feature a Style Show entitled "I Made It", with F.H.A. girls from all over the state modeling garments made in their homemaking classes.

State officers for 1957-58 will be elected by voting delegates at a special meeting Tuesday morning, with installation at the closing session on Wednesday morning.

Presentation of honorary memberships in the state organization will be made by the state president, Nancy Jean Ruth, Fountain Hill High School, Bethlehem, Lehigh county, at the Tuesday morning session. Nine adults who have made outstanding contributions to F.H.A. will receive this honor. The same session will feature presentation of the annual essay awards and announcement of the scholarship winner for this year.

"You Too Can Be A Leader" will be the topic for an address to be given by Mrs. Cecil S. Garey, president of the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Entertainment highlights will include the State F.H.A. Chorus, various skits, and a round and square dance Tuesday evening with the FFA state convention delegates.

NARROW ESCAPE—Two New York State girls came within an ace of the Big Farewell shortly after noon Sunday, when this convertible in which they were riding, had the brakes fail on Zimmerman Hill road, a steep descent just east of Sherwood Refinery. The convertible, with top down, skidded off the sharp curve, turned turtle, and slid down the hill on the back of its seats. Both girls, Alice Childs, 17, of Bolivar, N. Y. and Diane Rovovska, 18, of Kenmore, N. Y., were trapped inside the vehicle until help eventually pried open the door. Both escaped with cuts and contusions. Timesphoto by Saylor.
